

Richard D. Oxley

616 NE Fargo Street • Portland, OR 97212 • 503-866-7690

www.linkedin.com/in/richarddoxley • dyeroxley@gmail.com

Education

Portland State University, Portland, OR.

Bachelor of Science Arts and Letters

Studied English, journalism, film, business

South Puget Sound Community College, Olympia, WA.

Attended 2000-2001

Experience

Daily Vanguard

Arts and Culture Editor June 2011 – current

Opinion Editor July 2009 – June 2011

Writer, Reporter, Copy Editor 2007 – 2011

- Managed opinion and arts sections for daily publication.
- Managed writers and illustrators, edited and produced copy for print.
- Creator of The National column and the Rant and Rage column reprinted in the Daily Barometer, Corvallis, Ore and the Oregon Daily Emerald, Eugene, Ore.
- Reported for news covering pertinent issues to the Portland State and local community.
- Covered a variety of stories for arts and culture including music, film, television, dining/restaurants, beer and spirits, nightlife.

Portland Tribune

News Intern Summer 2008

- Covered local Portland issues and events, including the production of feature and enterprise articles while also accepting general assignments that were published for print and online.
- Interviewed relative sources, reported on the scene, took photographs, and met deadlines.

Achievements

Wilma Morrison Award for excellence in Opinion writing

Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association awards

Best Columnist – 2011 First Place

Best Writer – 2011 Second Place

Best Section (Daily Vanguard Opinion Section) – 2010 First Place

Best Columnist—2010 Honorable Mention